eau de parfum

Since she started designing jewellery, Tassia has imagined each and every one of them as a second skin. Raw materials and refined lines lie at the basis of her designs. Pieces we carry and stay with us through every moment in life.

Quite natural then that developing a fragrance, another envelope of flesh, concealed.

Perhaps like the warm greeting of the forest, at the time when dogs and wolves are indistinguishable, when stillness frees woody scents. The fleeting moment when leather takes over the citrus fruits freshness, utterly strong, loyal and comforting.

ÉPICÈNE has one gender only, yours.
